

The Carson Daily Appeal

CARSON CITY:
Saturday, October 4, 1873.

Lo—he of the untutored mind, who sees God in the clouds and hears him in the wind—goes about now with breath made resinous from much munching of pine-nuts, and with the evidences of being a mighty hunter slung to his girth. Perhaps it is the exultations from this nutty nutriment that makes our aboriginal neighbors so proof against all mere superficial saponaceous applications. There is a stoicism even amongst the least self-respectful of the down-trodden Washoes which sternly resists all gratuitous soft soapings. His stomach is not above a diet of worms which bears no relationship to the history of the great insurgent Monk; but his soul is above that indirect flattering which traces its parentage to a promulgated, acknowledged and utilized lie. Wonder if they know that this is Doomsday for the wretched Modocs—whose troubles, God help their turbulent souls, are probably all past and gone into the shadows by this time. The indigenous hare of these plains—and our vast alkaline wastes are never so bald but they have a sprinkling of hare—are fat and abundant now. We have reference to that member of the Coney family known in the vulgate as the Jackass Rabbit. You series of bright chrome-yellow blossomed herbs, looking in the distance like wild mustard, commonly get mixed up in the generic jumble of "sage brush." It is not sage brush; it is rabbit weed. Now when that yellow blossom is upon its virid stalks it indicates the mature growth of the young rabbits and hints at the fulness of the hare hunting season. The plant which is rightly named sage brush is one of the family of artemesia—so a responsible and gifted botanist once told us. We hardly had enough technology in our scene-box to be possessed of so pretty and appropriate a bit of erudition until he thrust it upon us; although we did know, or emphatically suspected, rather, that that hardy weed did not own kinship to the heliotrope or geranium family. (By the way, "geranium" is Professor Treadway's name for the amateur political farmers who are trying to engineer the Grangers. We beg pardon for this semi-political digression, but we peg the game as we go along for fear of losing a point.) We encountered one slow-striding son of the desert who was quite begirdled with feathered game. Several ducks, some curlew and a bittern were among these spoils of the chase. My noble red man's ancient smooth-bore had been where it had a rakin' fire at 'em. One tall, moody savage burst his bag of pine nuts until they were strewn broadcast upon Capitol Square. There followed an eager scrambling amongst the laughing squaws, but no back salary grab. The innocent cotton-tail is infrequently observable among the spoils of the field, but the equally innocent dove fails an easy prey to the native, yager-equipped Nimrod. The nut harvest exhausted and the hare-hunting season over, the next crop is the babies, and then—more babies—and so ad infinitum.

U. S. MINT.—The total amount of mixed bullion, gold and silver, received at the Carson Mint yesterday, was 1,197 pounds, sent from mills on Carson river to the Mint for melting and assaying. A deposit of 2,500 ounces of silver bullion was received from Mack & Powning, Benton, California, sent in to be coined into trade dollars. On the same day the Cashier of the Mint delivered to Wells, Fargo & Co., Carson, six unparted bars of gold and silver, weighing together 654 pounds, and worth the sum of $21,031.78. The bars are the property of the Crown Point mine, Gold Hill, Nevada, and by order are directed to the Bank of London and San Francisco (Limited). The Cashier also delivered to depositors of bullion the sum of $25,000 in gold coins and trade dollars, in return for bullion deposited for coinage.

Our only corpulent Alderman has taken to illustrating the front of his refreshment bazaar with a cartoon partly original but in greater part pilfered from an illustrated weekly newspaper, representing the internal economy of a high-toned eating saloon in one of the Paris Boulevards and Legate himself, in absolute, photographic propria persona slashing away with a big carving knife at a very sanguinary-looking joint of meat of some sort. We knew of his asking a certain wealthy and distinguished journalist for his picture yesterday while he, Legate, was swabbing out his menagerie; but oh! won't there be carnage and a mansard extension to a hairless scalp if that portrait should be set up as a sign of the enhanced and indubitable respectability of that hash house!

THE IMP OF THE PERVERSE has been at us, and we have neglected to call attention to the substantial business fact that our respected, enterprising, old-time friend Adolph Jacobs, has just been replenishing his stock of prime Havanas and his general assortment of the various seductive forms of tobacco. He has also been adding, quite largely, to his stock of stationery and case goods until his shelves have a business like look not to be undervalued. Make a brief stay at his cigar stand as you come from the Postoffice and wink at him and jerk your finger down toward the trap door in the floor and he will dive down cellar and come to the surface with as aromatic a cigar as ever you burnt under your nose.

THE CONCERT was well attended last night and the performance gave full satisfaction. Madame Bishop was in excellent voice, Gottschalk and Wilkie were received with hearty plaudits, and the pianist, Mr. Frank Gilder extorted the heartiest encores. His "Old Folks at Home" with its sparkling and delicate variations was magnificently rendered. He grows in favor as he is better known, and is certainly a very accomplished artist. The Madame gave us "Learning to Walk"—a sweet little ballad written by George Cooper and set to music by Steve Messett "of Pipesville," with most excellent effect. Altogether, these two concerts have been a very decided treat and have broken into our unusually protracted dearth of entertainments very pleasantly.

Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Moody and a third party who is a silent participant in the assets, liabilities and profits of the concern, all forming the business firm of Anderson, Moody & Co., are just opening a millinery establishment on Second street, round the corner from Grenier's barber-shop. They are getting things converted out of a condition of chaos into that attitude of order which finds expression from all properly regulated businesses in the shape of an advertisement in the Appeal—which public announcement is due form will appear in a day or two.

THE EMPIRE WOOD DRIVE is where it can be very readily handled and forwarded—the rear end being this side of Dutch Fred's. So low is the river, however, and so favorably disposed is the wood that all but two or three of the hands either have been or soon will be let off, and the whole drive allowed to remain where it is, undisturbed until there is a better stage of water in the river. There will be lively times in and about Empire when this wood comes swimming down.

BOOKS FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—Fox has just been receiving a very choice assortment of gift books. There are some very handsome royal quarto Bibles amongst the number. The exquisitely illustrated Yosemite and Big Tree Book is also in the lot. Then there are the poets, in very tempting type and covers; fairy tales and Hans Christian Andersen's charming stories; Mother Goose in great profusion; Robinson Crusoe in a new and attractive dress. Go and see what is there displayed.

A HANDSOME little thirty page pamphlet embracing the Constitution and By Laws of the Damon Lodge of Knights of Pythias has just been printed in the Appeal job office. This is in evidence as a proof of the well established character of the Lodge of that Order at this place as also of the excellent capacities of the Appeal printing establishment.

FINE STOCK COMING.—A postal card communication from Omaha to Senator Israel Crawford notifies him that Mr. Rollin P. Saxe left Omaha on the 21st of September with 63 ewes—and 50 bucks thoroughbred Spanish merinos, selected. These are said to shear from 12 to 28 pounds each, and are held at $50 apiece. They will soon be at Reno.

WARRENS, ATTENTION.—All members of the Warren Engine Company are much interested in the meeting which will take place to-night. See the Secretary's close-fitting notice in another column.

SPEAKING of the death of Fred Ohnge-mar, the Reveille of Wednesday says:

His last hours were not among strangers, a loving brother having devoted himself to his care and nursing. He was a native of Michigan, and leaves sisters and brothers residing in California, who have the sympathies of his many friends in this city in their sad bereavement.

London, Oct. 2.—Advices from Africa announce the capture of a white man by the natives while proceeding westward on the Congo River, and from the description of the man Charles Livingstone believes it is his son.

This news of a promised squelching of a race of bores is almost too good to be true.

Batterick's Paper Patterns and Sheet Music.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

New York, October 3.—A Washington special says Slottuk and Barneho, two of the Indians sentenced to death with Captain Jack, will be pardoned by the President on the ground that they were merely instruments of their Chief in the Peace Commission assassination.

Sir Samuel Baker, the African traveler, and wife, will visit this country next Summer.

London, October 3.—A chimney, two hundred and twenty feet high, in the village of North Feet, fell to-day, killing five persons and maiming a dozen others.

A dispatch from Cartagena says the insurgent frigates were not injured during the bombardment of Alicante, and no one on board killed. They are taking in coal and making preparations to attack Valencia.

The Spanish Government has issued orders requiring all vessels arriving at ports in Spain from Liverpool to undergo quarantine.

Madrid, October 3.—Senor Zoler, Minister of the Colonies, will leave Spain on the 20th instant and visit Porto Rico and Cuba.

Paris, October 3.—The city has been full of conflicting rumors to-day in regard to the political situation. The report which gained most currency was one stating that a permanent committee of the Assembly would order that body to meet on the 13th instant, that the Government officials now absent from Versailles had been ordered to proceed there immediately, but a dispatch from official sources in Versailles pronounces it untrue.

San Francisco, October 3.—The body of a little boy named Kelly, drowned last week, has been found.

Philip Kramer, a young man well known in this city, was examined in the Police Court to-day for an assault to murder a man named Ray. He was held to answer. Bail, $2,000.

The ship Three Brothers, nearly ready for sea, has about 2,000 tons of grain on board, and will probably be open for public inspection next Sunday.

It is understood that Slottuk and Barneho are the Modocs pardoned by President Grant. The pardon is granted for the reason that these men acted merely as the instruments of Captain Jack in the murder of the Peace Commissioners.
